Circle of Joy Giving Circle Collectively Gives $30,000 to 3D Girls, Inc. and Stem Atlanta Women

Atlanta, GA — On Saturday October 22, 2022, 3D Girls, Inc. and Stem Atlanta Women were each awarded $15,000 in time, talent, and treasure from the Circle of Joy. Both organizations are providing necessary resources for Black girls in the Metro Atlanta area.

3D Girls, Inc. is a non-profit designed to educate, empower, and advocate for young women. Starting in the summer of 2012, this organization has been making a lasting impact on Atlanta youth for 10 years. 3D girls empowers women through S.T.E.A.M focused mentoring, increasing the number of young girls of color in this field. 3D Girls, Inc. also focuses on prenatal and parent education as well as social and emotional wellness.

Stem Atlanta Women is an organization that was founded to enlighten, educate, and empower women and girls to take advantage of the global opportunities in STEM. Their programming includes STEM in the City, an afterschool program in which master classes in STEM are offered to middle and high school girls located in Summerhill, Atlanta.

Founder of Circle of Joy, Joy Webb stated “Over the last 14 years, this collective group has given to several nonprofits in the Atlanta area, and we are honored to give our biggest grants to date today. We understand the power of the collective and choose to intentionally amplify our communities by using that power.” The Circle of Joy looks forward to this partnership with 3D Girls, Inc. and Stem Atlanta Women. While this was the official Circle of Joy’s 2022 grant giving gathering, the giving circle will continue to supply the selected organizations with their time, talent, and collective resources for the next two years.
